

Breaking Bad: Top Down Executive Function Training to Enhance Learning and Motivation

Dr. Martha Burns

This course will review new research on Executive Function including self regulation, delayed gratification, organization and problem solving skills. The content will include brain research on how EF skills mature in children and adolescents to enable purposeful, goal oriented behavior for academic success. Research on best practices for building EF's as well as methodology shown to decrease behavioral problems like impulsivity and aggression will also be covered.

LOCATION

Bertha Frank
Performing Arts Center
350 Illinois Street
Morton IL

DATE & TIME

Friday, October 11, 2019
Presentation: 8:00am - 3:00pm
Lunch is NOT provided

Pre-registration is required for all participants.

Register online at www.tmcsea.org

Registration Deadline: October 4, 2019

Tazewell-Mason Counties Special Education Association is an Illinois State Board of Education Approved Professional Development Provider and Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation Continuing Education Sponsor.
6 Professional Development hours and 6 Continuing Education Units will be issued for this inservice presentation.